

Melody of the soul

We only dream worthy dreams with our hearts Those thoughts that flutter & sputter around in our heads are usually just so much buzz filling up the empty moments when our hearts are sleeping.

Our souls tell our hearts when they hear the right music There are so many alluring melodies floating around.
But only one song is right for each of us.
When your heart hears, your soul knows

It seems impossible to live every moment with your heart awake & listening sometimes you need the calm of just knowing it will happen maybe not today, maybe not even tomorrow but one day.
Everyone has one day

You have to train your heart to listen in the background through the buzz of everyday life through the sputter of adolescence and the flutter of young adulthood then the throb of middle age finally through the ticking of old age

HaShem will call

Everyday can hold that dream

Then when you hear it grasp the melody & memorize it sing it everyday dream it every night

It will carry you through all the buzzing and sputtering and fluttering and throbbing and ticking

to the calm that is true Shalom
